Presenting Jonathan Dayton . . .

The old gentleman was too curious to stay where he was, he just had to see how his high school was doing in this modern day and age. The Squire Dayton earned his fame as a signer of the Constitution and a patriot of our infant country. Today we have him as the very honored guest of the class of '53. He'll be around quite a bit this year to watch over us as we move towards graduation. Watch for him as you go through each day, he'll always be around.

He asked us as a special favor to see . . .

Che 1953 REGIONALOGUE

Of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School
In Springfield, New Jersey

Jonathan's first duty and honor was to pin a blue ribbon on . . .

Miss Helen MacKay

Montclair S.T.C.—A.B.
Graduate study at Rutgers
Teacher of mathematics
Senior class adviser

As guidance counselor Miss MacKay listens sympathetically to student problems.

Math skills are stressed as a classroom procedure.

Blue Dibbon Winner

FIRST CLASS RATING FOR . . .

her clear thinking,

her careful appreciation of our problems,

her friendliness and winning personality, her cheerful manner in encouraging our struggling efforts, and for being the director of our fortunes, the judge of our board of complaints, and the pilot of our ambitions, we dedicate this 1953 Regionalogue to Helen MacKay.

Jonathan finds the fast pace of life at Regional exhausting . . .

He tried our school bus — found the A.M. run quiet and, he added apologetically, not too inspiring.

He noticed the students going reluctantly into school

Jonathan was puzzled by the student preference for "hall-duty". He thought that perhaps the classrooms weren't heated in the morning. (The usual morning gang on the first floor.)

He did find a few who preferred the main office for lounging — "picked volunteers", seeing Dr. Murray about a cut slip.

We explained to Jonathan that it was only bicarb and that the students would soon be ready to assume their scholarly duties.

After third period, Jonathan found the prospects of lunch appealing . . .

He saw courtesy being stressed in the lunchline.

He, too, found the fresh air exhilarating—the new fad (fruit boots) and the cause for whistling amused him.

J. D. was going to ask a good-looking blond for a dance during noon hour dancing but was afraid his dancing was too dated.

We were glad it was Friday to be able to show J.D. our assembly program . . .

He was impressed with our opening exercises, the Bible reading, the Lord's Prayer . . .

the flag salute and the National Anthem.

He thought the seniors were very talented in their variety show, especially the instrumental quartet.

The 2:54 bell always comes-but, with it today, came report cards . . .

J. D. looked in amazement at the students — moans of agony, shock and despair rend the halls. He calmed down when we explained the "unearned E".

He thought running laps was very lenient for gym offenders in comparison to punishment during colonial days.

Evening activities especially appealed to J.D.-he was fascinated by the game of basketball.

We tried explaining the game but found it more difficult than we thought.

After the game, we sipped sodas at Marcel's

. . and J. D. called it a day — a big day in his new life.

Jonathan was impressed with our administrators . . .

Warren W. Halsey Principal

His thorough knowledge of school administration, his complete willingness to discuss problems with faculty and students alike, his courtesy, ambition, and friendliness have kept Mr. Halsey in first place with everyone connected with Jonathan Dayton's school.

Dr. Norman Murray Vice-Principal

As our newly appointed vice principal, Dr. Murray has filled the position with competence and understanding. We are happy to include him in Jonathan's Regionalite family.

First row, left to right: Mrs. Smith, Mr. Nolan, Mr. Bertolamy, Mr. Southgate, Dr. Murray, Mr. Halsey. Second row: Mr. Benintente, Mr. Conlin, Dr. Jones, Mr. Simms, Mr. Melick.

... He found our Board of Education and office staff very efficient ...

BETTY DAMMIG Secretary

Bright, cheerful, and bubbling over with enthusiasm, Betty has the qualities and popularity necessary to be elected secretary of both the Freshman and Senior class. She seems to appreciate everything, but her special likes are swimming and cheering for the Bulldogs during football season. She plans to go into nursing later on.

FRED ASAL President

Fred's one of the most popular boys at Regional. His great capacity for work and his general ability to inspire others to do so made him a natural for our Senior Class President. He's active in choir and all school activities.

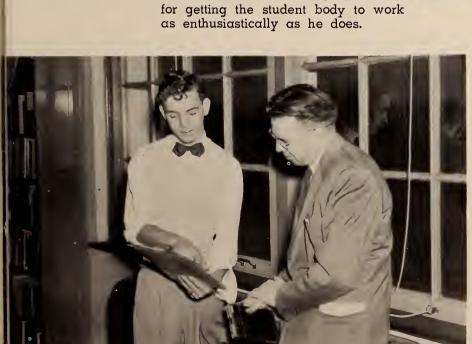

GEORGE SCHWARZ Treasurer

A rugged individualist, our class Treasurer combines intelligence with wit, a perfect combination. His most priceless asset is the rare ability to laugh when the joke is on him. His mathematical ability has never been contested—thus he's the keeper of our treasury.

ERIC REINHARDT Vice-President

Eric's ready wit and intelligence make him one of the top students in his class. His personality and willingness to help others led us to choose him as Vice-President of our class. He has an art for getting the student body to work as enthusiastically as he does.

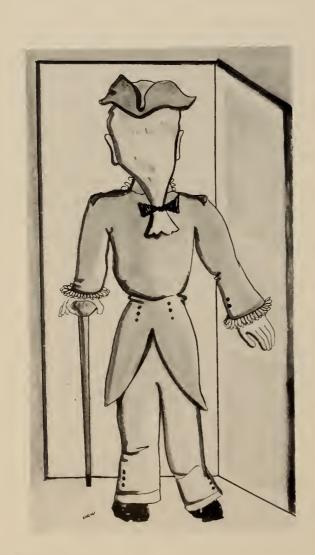

Senior Class Officers

CARL HONECKER Assembly Representative

A desire to work and an ability to make friends have made our Assembly Representative a valuable asset to the class of '53. A member of Boys' State and the All - State Chorus, Carl has represented Regional in many organizations. As coeditor of the Regionalogue, he's conferring here with Mr. Frantzen, yearbook photographer.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class, under the leadership of George MacKenzie, has come a long way since entering Regional. The freshman year was highlighted by the class dance, the Freshman Frolic, and a variety show in which many talented students made their first appearance. Completely acquainted with Regional's ways as sophomores, this class went on to put on a Soph Hop which met with the unusual success that has characterized the activities of this Class of 1954. The big event for any junior class is, of course, the Junior Prom, and a talented class such as this could do nothing but make a big success of the affair.

SOPHOMORES

The Class of 1955 has been led for two successive years by a capable and well-liked president, Bob Hull. This year Bob is assisted by Don Mindas and Judy Anderson, the other officers. Talent of all sorts is distributed among this class. Many sophomores are in the various music groups, while several are in the Ensemble. These sophomores have been awarded quite a few prizes for artistic ability. Through a newly inaugurated practice, several sophomores are on the Regionalogue staff and have proven very helpful. The dances and other activities of this class have always been highly successful. All in all, this sophomore class seems to have what it takes to make an outstanding, top-notch class.

COMMERCIAL

The excellence of our Commercial Department is surpassed by few — outmoded by still fewer. The experience gained through the use of various office machines and the superb training which we received will be valued by all commercial graduates. The employer who receives a finished product of our commercial department will indeed be fortunate!

CLOTHING

Building on a basic knowledge of styles and materials, beginning clothing students work their way through simpler projects and eventually enter the advanced classes. The girls with several years of experience make suits, coats, evening apparel, etc. The years work is highlighted by a fashion show in which each girl models the garment she considers to be her best work.

Next step-Powers Modeling Agency.

Oh! to work in this office!

LANGUAGES

Our French, Latin and Spanish classes help to give Regional its cosmopolitan air. A writing, reading and speaking knowledge of language is stressed and enjoyed by our linquists. Although required for college prepatory students, many commercial and general students elect a language and find it very worthwhile and pleasurable.

Parlez-vous Français?

Oh that delicious aroma!

FOODS

Foods classes vary from beginners to advanced classes and include a new "experimental" group. A special phase of advanced foods is the faculty luncheons, run completely by students—from planning to serving. In the new addition, the Home Management department will expand and will have facilities for better food experimentation and demonstration.

ENGLISH

From Scott to Shakespeare to Shelley, our English department offers a wide cultural background of literature in all forms. A basic knowledge of writing and speaking essential for success in either business or college is given. A specialized section of this department furnishes elective classes in speech and dramatics.

English would be a pleasure in this new room.

MATHEMATICS

Regional's math department no longer limits itself to classroom time to teach students who are interested in improving themselves. Mr. Scott, the department head, has been doing some advanced work with seniors—analytical geometry during class and an introduction to calculus in Advanced Math Club.

Einstein has nothing on them!

Hope Chests, Gals?

"Heh, heh, heh!"

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The science department attempts to give its students a proper appreciation of the importance of science to our modern day living. By using proper laboratory apparatus, it prepares students for future vocations in applied fields. Experiments and research are impressed on the students by the Science Department.

Gutenberg should see this!

SHOPS

With a wide variety of machines and hand tools with which to construct many different types of projects, the shop workers turn out hundreds of beautiful articles during the year. More than two hundred participate in the shop program each day. Many boys plan their own projects, while others build articles from the scores of plans available in the shops.

Future Craftsmen.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The social studies department is a busy and vital part in any school and Regional is no exception. Since we are living in such a critical period in history, special stress is put on current affairs with trips to the U. N. and forums. The social studies department, through various forum organizations participates in local conferences, broadcasts, forums, and debates.

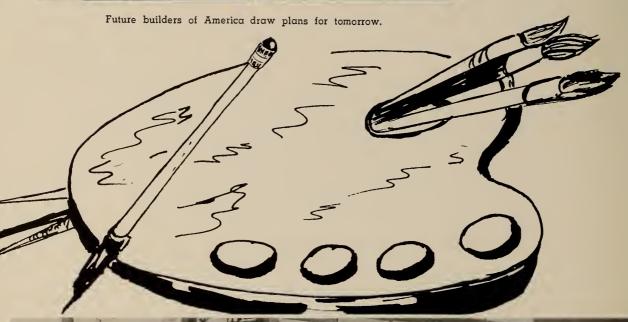

"World wise thinkers"

ART

The art department headed by Miss Perry, does outstand ing work throughout the year The students in the department make decorations for school dances and displays for the showcase.

DAYTON NEWS

The roar of the press is calmed to the pounding of typewriter keys in Room 205, the home of the Dayton News. Nevertheless, each month, through the combined efforts of the advisors, editors, reporters, and typists, the staff manages to turn out a four-page publication. Its editors continually strive to inform and enlighten the student body by recording in black and white a complete account of school events.

REGIONALOGUE

Late evenings after school, rushing to meet deadlines, revising "best-laid plans" kept the Regionalogue editors and staff busy. But we did our best and enjoyed doing it. Our reward is in accomplishing our one aim to produce a top-notch Regionalogue for the class of 1953.

Football

Go get him, Judd!

For the second year running, Regional's football campaign has been unsuccessful, record wise. But records are not always the best criterion in measuring an athletic season. Except for the Rahway game, which seldom seems to end correctly for the Bulldogs, and the Somerville contest, Coach John Brown's men gave a winning performance in every appearance. Breaks and the weather aided Linden in a 6-6 tie, while Union came up with a spirited game and held Regional to a scoreless tie.

Starting out with an 18-0 triumph over Hillside, Regional won 4, lost 2, and tied 2 with one of the lowest collective scoring totals in Union County. After a 39-7 defeat by Somerville, the Bulldogs beat Caldwell, 12-6, and Roselle in a thrilling last-minute rally, 7-6. The ties sandwiched the standout production—a 13-0 victory over Westfield.

Despite a sub-.500 record of eight wins and nine defeats, Regional's basketball season was considered quite successful. Several of the defeats were by narrow margins to top-rated teams. The loss to Plainfield, for instance, was by one point, and the team led St. Mary's throughout the first half before going down to defeat.

Two decisive victories over Rahway were highlights of the season, although the team's best game was probably the 52-44 upset victory over Linden.

Seniors Judd Herman and Johnny Keith led the team throughout the year, but a late season drive was sparked by newcomer Tom Luckie. Sophomores such as Luckie and Joe Schaffernoth and juniors like George MacKenzie and Ray Reiff give the coaches reason to look forward to years to come.

Wrestling

Regional's wrestling has improved greatly and is definitely on the upgrade. Senior Al Hector, who went undefeated for two seasons, and sophomore Richard Scorese, who has a perfect record this year, deserve special commendation. A majority of talented underclassmen speak well for the team's future. Our 32 to 6 victory over Rahway was a highlight of the team's career.

When these girls start swinging their sticks, look out! Our girls have really gone out for hockey in a big way this year. The senior and junior teams entered competition with various other schools. Also this year, Regional sent six girls to the State Hockey Clinic.

Kay didn't open a tea room, but she did receive eleven trays among her wedding gifts. Presents placed here and there, discarded boxes, tissue paper and Tommy set the scene of confusion in the living room of the Banks' residence. The small wedding that Kay and Buckley had planned never materialized. Tommy, Kay's younger brother, just couldn't seem to do anything right. He never combed his hair and even lost his cuff-links on Kay's wedding day. Poor Mr. Banks, he had to pay all those bills.

We attribute much of the success of the play to the able directing of Miss "Mac" and her assistants. No contracts as yet have been offered to the production of "Father of the Bride" to appear on Broadway but it did create a sensation on the rural circuit.

Behind-the-scenes Directors, B. Long, B. Harris, S. Sweeney, B. McCusker.

Last minute preparations for the big event.

A solemn moment.

Why the tears?

Alma Mater

Here stands our high school tried and true, Where hearts have been content, And thru the years our hearts will cling To memories we've spent.

O hail! O, hail! Dear Regional High,
A school like ours to cherish.
On solid rock she's standing still,
We know she'll never perish.

The towers stretching to the sky,
The babbling brook beside it.
We love thy halls, thy campus green
How high they lift our spirit.

O, hail! O, hail! Dear Regional High, We love and honor thee. United voices sing thy praise, With sad hearts now we leave thee.

School was never like this.

IN MEMORIAM

He was an average guy, full of life. One you'd expect to see talking with his buddies at the corner store or hunting with his favorite rifle. People liked him and he never held a grudge nor saw bad in any person. His ambition when he "got back" was to build himself a car.

Paul Buckley was only 19 when he was killed in Korea in 1952. He gave his youth that our chance in life might be kept free. He gave his right to happiness, his right to life, his right to hope. He took only his pain and death.

Perhaps this might be a reminder that, like many others, Paul Buckley will be forgotten and that we owe homage to these soldiers who went through bloodshed and tears and lonesome thoughts that we might have our freedom.
